

‘Best of’

NTF Trainer Trends/Angles Portfolio 2020/21 : Taster Copy...

After tinkering with the an ‘NTF Angles’ approach in the Members Area last season, which pointed us towards some very tasty winners, I’ve decided to go down the ‘portfolio’ route and streamline the process for ‘ease of use’.

Trying to get a method that suits everyone’s needs is never easy but, I think, I’ve managed that with this ‘Best of’ approach as none of the twelve angles include any SP filters, field size filters or ground filters, meaning the qualifiers involve ‘static’ conditions that do not involve waiting or keeping an eye on variable filters like the three previously mentioned (SP, Field, Ground). As such, when I post the qualifiers the evening before racing they are final, no keeping an eye on things, no worrying about any changes as we approach race time, a simple ‘these are the qualifiers, do with them as you please’.

The idea, obviously, is to be backing them all to Betfair SP although profits would also have been achieved to ‘standard SP’ and possibly better profits, for some, if grabbing early price.

All these angles will have been mentioned by myself at some point, somewhere, over the past few seasons so some should be familiar to you, albeit some may have only been mentioned in passing in the Weekend Notes or the NTF Telegram group. I've personally had them plugged into my various databases for at least a couple years and have been tracking and/or backing them myself (alongside the many other angles I make use of day to day).

As is always the case with this type of approach, it's best to try and not live and breathe every single peak and trough (of which there will be many!!) and try, as best as possible, to remember the wider picture and long term profits goal.

Like all things, I'll review at various points of the season and I will also be adding some monthly angles to boost the profits, with two new angles ready for the November-December period, two for the January-February period and two for the March-April period, exclusive to full NTF Members.

Hopefully the logic and methodology behind this is straightforward enough, it's not too far removed from what I've previously done in the Members Area over the past few seasons.

Enjoy...
